2. On 18th November 1968 I called the dispatcher at the [redacted] Motor Pool to see if the car I had requested for the 19th would be available; he assured me that it would be available.

3. A short time later on the 18th, I received a call from the dispatcher stating that the car was no longer available. He suggested that I call [redacted] for details.

4. I then called [redacted] who was out. I did, however, talk to [redacted], the [redacted] Engineer, who told me the following:

A. He was sorry, but the car was not available; I told him in that case I would have to take my personal car and submit a voucher for reimbursement.

B. That since the A&RC was a heavy user of [redacted] cars, they were going to rent a car from [redacted] for our use. This was being done because the people who had justified the cars were complaining about the cars not being available when they wanted them.
